In a nutshell

The first reading tells us that death was not God's doing. God made us imperishable.

When Jairus' daughter dies, there seems to be no hope, and the people laugh at Jesus when he says she is asleep.

With tender compassion, Jesus restores the little girl to life.

With his love, Jesus can restore us to life, and bring us to our eternal home at the end of time.

For today's Gospel, we continue to read from the Gospel of Mark. Last Sunday we heard about Jesus calming the storm.

Today's Gospel reports two stories of healing. One story tells us about a father's great love for his dying daughter. The other story tells us about a desperate woman, who risks much, as she seeks healing from Jesus. In each story, the request for healing is itself a courageous act of faith, and yet very different circumstances are represented by the lives of each suffering person.

The contrasts between Jairus and the woman with the hemorrhage are stark and revealing. One is a man, the other is a woman. One is a public official, an important person in the community. The other is a woman, who has lost everything to find a cure to a condition that has separated her from the community. One approaches Jesus publicly. The other approaches Jesus secretly. Yet in each case, faith leads them to seek out Jesus in their time of need.

During his ministry, Jesus is surrounded by people all the time. But he turns to those in greatest need. His miracles are signs of God's love and mercy available to us all.

Raise your voices

Entrance antiphon: All nations, clap your hands shout with a voice of joy to God.

Response to psalm: I will praise Lord, for you have rescued me.

Gospel acclamation: Alleluia, alleluia! Our Saviour Jesus Christ has done away with death and brought us life through his gospel. Alleluia!
